Community Action Marin Energy Programs

Community Action Marin is the local administrator of the federally funded Home Energy Assistance Program (HEAP). CAM also helps referring residents to other income-eligible energy saving programs.

LIHEAP Assistance - Once-a-year assistance in paying for gas, electric, wood, and propane home energy costs. Eligibility and assistance level based on household size, gross monthly income, and program priorities. (Program restrictions may change on an annual basis and according to funding availability.)

Referral to Residential Conservation Programs - Access to Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (weatherization), Department of Energy Weatherization Assistance Program (WAP), Energy Partners and utility-operated conservation programs.
